Mother, Three Children Freed by Kidnaper

By HERB LITTLE
CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—A 29-year-old mother and her three children, lawns in an ex-convict's mad scheme against a former cellmate, were rescued by police after being held captive for 20 hours.

Richard A. Payne, 23, surrendered late Thursday afternoon at a backblock near Logan, 70 miles south of here, after firing two shots at trailing police. He had planned to use Mrs. John Baldwin and her children as a wedge to force the release of Burton Junior Post from the state penitentiary.

Payne had vowed vengeance—and death—on Post and threatened torture and death to his hostages if his demands were not met. The men were cellmates for 17 months of Payne's seven years in prison.

Payne was released from prison eight days ago. Today, the salo, heavily-lidded young man faces kidnapping charges. He was held at Kanawha County Jail.

In jail, Payne stuck to his story of why he kidnapped the 29-year-old mother and her children from their home in a nearby South Charleston Wednesday night.

He said he wanted them as hostages to force the release of his one-time cellmate, Burton Junior Post, 31, from the penitentiary.

Winter Gets Final Lick at Midwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winter prepared for its exit today and its parting salute was a mixture of snow, gusty winds and cold from the Rockies into northern Midwest areas.

But with spring due officially at 3:55 a.m. EST Saturday, the weather was in seasonal form in most areas in the eastern half of the country—fairly mild temperatures and showers in some sections. It was a little cool in the far Northwest and warm in the far Southwest.

More rains kept the sun under cover in much of Florida, the so-called "sunshine state." It was the "sixth straight day" of weather in many areas. Forecasters didn't see much hope of dry weather before Saturday. The rains have disrupted major league baseball exhibition games and other sports events. Floods have forced several families from homes in low-lying areas.

Heavy snow warnings were posted for Nebraska, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, South Dakota, north-west Illinois and north-central Kansas.

Strong winds fanned a stream of cold air through the West, spreading snow and rain showers over the mountain states. More than three inches of snow fell at both Lander and Cheyenne, Wyo., and more than two inches damped Denver.

Old Home, Gaslights Donated to Washington as Foundation, CAA Groups Start Rebuilding

Washington's Community Accomplishment Association, together with the Pioneer Washington Restoration Foundation, Inc., are beginning to realize the fruits of their work.

W. R. Stephens head of Arkansas Louisiana Gas company has donated 20 gas lights which will be installed at various points of interest. And Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Galis of Atlanta, Georgia, have given the Abraham Block house to the Foundation and restoration of the building is already underway.

The attractive gas lights will be distributed as follows — four at the old Capitol building, one at the Presbyterian Church, two at the Methodist Church, one each at the Negro churches, one at the gymnasium and another near the old Magnolia tree.

Work is progressing on the Block house which is one of the few examples of early architecture of the area still standing. Abraham Block was its builder and was the original ancestor of a well-known Hope family. The house was built in 1817 and is now the oldest two-story house still standing in Arkansas. The roll enclosing the second-story porch is carved by hand to resemble the lacy ironwork of New Orleans.

A few thunderstorms were expected to become severe in the area. The bureau said large hail was forecast and there was a possibility of an isolated tornado between 1 p.m. (CST) and 6 p.m. (CST) in an area along and 120 miles south of a line from 40 miles south of Oklahoma City, Okla., to 30 miles northeast of Fayetteville, Ark.

5 Buildings Burn in Town Near Newport

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP)—Fire which for a time threatened to spread, through the entire town destroyed five buildings and damaged two others at nearby Amagon yesterday.

The arrival of the Newport Fire Department just as Amagon's makeshift equipment failed saved the town from further damage.

Deputy Sheriff G. D. Teal estimated total loss at $95,000.

Almost all of Amagon's 181 residents turned out to form a bucket brigade to combat the flames, which started in dry grass that was set afire by burning trash.

At the height of the fire, a large pole which controls the town's electric system began burning and electricity had to be cut off, stopping pumps which had been drawing water from wells. The town has no piped water.

Trucks from the Newport Fire Department arrived about this time and took over with auxiliary pumps.

The grass fire first ignited an empty garage, then engulfed the home of Joe Allen and Mrs. Lula White. It also consumed Joe Howard's Machine Shop and a cafe owned by Mrs. Inez Gilmore.

The home of Mayor H. K. Heatherly and the Amagon Cafe were badly damaged. No injuries were reported.

Rogers Tells Committee Civil Rights Proposals Would End Need for Troops in Future

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers said today one purpose of the administration's civil rights proposals is to make it unnecessary "ever again" to use federal troops to enforce school desegregation.

Rogers referred specifically to President Eisenhower's request to make it a federal crime to use force or threats of force to obstruct court orders in school desegregation cases.

At a hearing of the Senate Constitutional Rights Subcommittee, Rogers was challenged by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. (D-NC) to say why the legislation singles out violence in school cases and does not apply to labor disputes and other cases.

Ervin said he believes more violence has been involved in violations of court injunctions in labor controversies than in school cases.

"For the life of me, I can't see why the federal government should be more concerned about violence in one field than another," Ervin said.

Ervin said, however, that he can see "a political distinction." He said the administration bill is "directed against a minority Southern white folks," while a bill applicable to labor disputes would be directed against a group with more political power.

"I assure you that is not my purpose," Rogers told him. He said the administration proposal was advanced because of the belief that it is needed to prevent mob action against school desegregation.

At present, Rogers added, the federal government has no weapon to prevent mob violence except the use of armed forces. If the bill is passed, he said, it is hoped that "it will never be necessary again to have to use armed forces."

In 1957 President Eisenhower sent Army paratroopers to Little Rock, Ark., to quell mob resistance to a court order for the admission of seven Negro students to Central High School there.

Earlier, in prepared testimony, Rogers described the administration proposals as "moderate, workable and necessary."

The administration bills would: 1. Permit federal authorities to deal "on the spot" with mobs seeking to obstruct school integration orders. Penalties for such obstruction would run up to two years imprisonment and $10,000 fine.

2. Allow federal trials for interstate flights to avoid prosecution for the bombing of school or church buildings.

3. Require state authorities to preserve federal election voting registrations for three years and permit examination of them by federal authorities.

4. Extend the life of the civil rights commission for another two years.

Rogers gave the senate group the same outline of the proposals that he presented to a House Judiciary Subcommittee nine days ago.

Rogers said the proposals "are designed to provide a more solid basis for continuing the outstanding advances of recent years towards achieving our goal of full equality under law for all our people. . . the situation calls for wisdom, understanding and determination. The administration's proposals were drafted with this in mind."

Park Court Lights Left on All Night

Whoever used the tennis courts in Fair Park last night failed to turn off the lights.

The Star's editor discovered them burning at 8:30 this morning and turned them off. Nevertheless the city administration should check on who last used the courts and threaten penalties for negligence in the future.

The purpose of the editor's early-morning visit to the park, however, was actually to check on the park's squirrel population. Hope hasn't had much luck in keeping squirrels there.

The editor saw years ago that morning. A law that one this morning, re-stock the park with squirrels, and this time arrest the parents of offending boys.

Sharp Rise in Cases of Rabies

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A sharp rise in cases of animal rabies in Arkansas was reported yesterday by the state Health Department.

Department records showed that by March 14, the state had recorded 60 cases of rabies. At that time last year, only 20 had been reported.

Heaviest incidence of the disease was in south Arkansas.

Two Killed, 3 Members of Family Shot

WYNONA, Okla. (AP)—Two members of a Wynona family were killed and three others were wounded Thursday night as they sat in the living room of their home.

An 18-year-old relative who had shared the home of Joe and Freda Moreland for the past four weeks was arrested in connection with the shooting. He is Jerry Miller, a brother of Mrs. Moreland.

Wynona police said Miller was found hiding in a barn near the Moreland home. He offered no resistance.

Ozage County Sheriff Dick Streetman said a .22-caliber pistol was found a short distance from the Moreland house.

County Atty. Pat Williams said Miller declared, "I didn't know why I did it."

Killed were Moreland, and his 14-year-old daughter, Paula. Mrs. Moreland was critically wounded by a bullet in the neck. The couple's sons, Charles, 8, and Jerry Wayne, 4, were less seriously wounded.

Highway patrolman Joe Burns said Charles Moreland told him young Miller was the gunman.

"Jerry just came out of his room and started shooting," the younger son was quoted. "He'd been acting funny after dinner. He just sat there."

Burglar Breaks Out of Jail at Murfreesboro

MURFREESBORO, Ark. (AP)—A convicted burglar, escaped from Pike County Jail here last night on the eve of his scheduled departure for the state penitentiary.

Mitchell Price, 23, of Smackover, wriggled to freedom through a large ventilation conduit which passed through the top of his cell.

Shortly Luke Stevens said Price ripped off a piece of the frame around a grill in the 20-inch metal conduit and used the fragment to pry open the grill.

He lifted himself into the conduit and crawled eight feet to another grill which opens on the Pike Circuit Courtroom in which he was sentenced Monday to two years concurrent terms on charges of burglary and grand larceny.

Stevens said Price knocked out the grill in the courtroom, dropped to the floor and fled.

The sheriff said Price was convicted of breaking into the Ligo Motel Co. at Glenwood last December and stealing $150. He was arrested at Wynona, Kan., Feb. 9 and had been in the Pike County Jail since officers brought him back to Arkansas.

Cabbage Truck Hits Bridge at Newport

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP)—A trailer truck carrying a load of cabbages crashed into a bridge abutment on U.S. Highway 67 near here today and burst into flames. The driver escaped unhurt.

State Police said Orville Higgins, 35, of Goodland, Mo., told them he had reached over to switch on an auxiliary gasoline tank when he looked up and saw the truck was out of control.

The vehicle overturned after ramming the abutment. Higgins jumped from the cab before the fire broke out. The truck and cargo were destroyed.

Traffic on the St. Louis-to-Little Rock highway was blocked for three hours. The accident occurred about 16 miles south of Newport.

Higgins valued the truck at about $18,000. He made no estimate on the loss of the cabbages.

Allies Seeking Workable Plan to Hand Russia

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, opening their conference on German problems, talked for nearly 24 hours today with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at Walter Reed Army Hospital.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd also participated in the session.

On bidding farewell to the visiting secretary, Eisenhower and his British visitors headed off to Camp David, Eisenhower's work-vacation spot in the Maryland mountains, for conferences.

From Walter Reed, the President and his party motored to the Naval Medical Center, Bethesda, Md., and boarded a helicopter for the rest of the trip to Camp David.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan began their important talks on German and German problems during a visit today with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at Walter Reed Army Hospital.

The two leaders and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd paid a call on the ailing Dulles en route to Camp David in the Maryland mountains where the talks will start in earnest later in the day.

The White House said the visit with Dulles was more than a courtesy call. President Eisenhower said today, "Macmillan is going to sum up the situation of the German problem, the situation of the Berlin problem, and the situation of the German people."

Walter Reed involved "some preliminary discussions" of the desire for a firm Allied stand in the Berlin crisis.

Ex-FBI Man Fined for Aid to Trujillo

WASHINGTON (AP)—John Joseph Frank, a Washington attorney and former FBI agent, was fined $500 today for acting as an agent for Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo and the Dominican Republic with but registering with the Justice Department.

U.S. Dist. Judge Luther W. Youngblood fined Frank $500 on each of two counts in the indictment, but suspended one fine.

Judge Youngblood said he was taking into account "that Frank now has registered as an agent of a foreign principal as well as the fact he made no apparent effort to hide his activities."

Frank, 41, is a native of New Britain, Conn. He withdrew a plea of innocence last week and threw himself upon the mercy of the court.

Frank was indicted by a grand jury delving into the disappearance of Jesus Maria de Galindez, Columbia University lecturer, and Gerald L. Murphy, an American pilot.

Galindez, 43, a bitter critic of Dominican strong man Trujillo, disappeared in March 1956 shortly after leaving a class at Columbia. Murphy, 23, a pilot for the Dominican government, vanished in Ciudad Trujillo, the Dominican capital, the following December.

Some reports said Murphy had boasted of knowledge about the circumstances of Galindez' disappearance.

Atomic Blasts Form Sheet Circling World

By JOE F. KANE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three nuclear bombs exploded by the United States beyond the earth's atmosphere formed an electronic sheet that circled most of the world.

A responsible official outside the Defense Department said the tests at tremendous altitude were an effort to spread a shield through which missiles could not fly.

Defense Department officials confirmed Wednesday night that the blasts had been set off secretly last September for both military and scientific test purposes. But they declined to discuss the military angles.

Other sources reported however that the tests explored the possibility of generating at an altitude of about 300 miles a diffusion of neutrons which would offset the nuclear reaction in missile warheads.

The shots were fired from naval craft in the South Atlantic late in September—more than a month before the United States started a one-year suspension of nuclear testing pending negotiations with the Soviet Union on halting all such testing.

Deputy Secretary of Defense Donald Quarles and Dr. Herbert York, director of Pentagon research, gave some details of the test shots after newsmen learned of them from other sources.

They said the explosions were of very low yield in radiation and would not disclose the altitude at which the tests were made. York said there was no radioactive fallout on the earth from the tests.

York said the main objective of the tests was to test important theories about the trapping of electrons by the earth's magnetic field. He said the detonation of the bombs released electrons into space above the earth's atmosphere and that the trapping of these by the earth's magnetic field created the great sheet that eventually circled the globe.

The nonmilitary part of the test York said was to find out more about the nature and origin of the Van Allen belt of radiation.

The Van Allen belt is a mysterious radiation band beginning at about 1000 miles above the earth and extending with some interruptions up to at least 10,000 miles. It is named for its discoverer Mr. James Van Allen, State University of Iowa physicist.

Brownie Troop 2 Meets

The regular meeting of Brownie Troop 2 was held on Monday afternoon at the Teen Age Club with Gilda Fay Hines hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. John Hines. They served cold drinks and candy sticks to Brownies Glenda Smith, Kay Vandiver, Susan Ward Janet Jordan, Cindy Gray, Sandra Kay Anderson, Charlotte Arnold, Gail Graham, Janette McAnnally Vera Oglesby, and a guest, Brenda Hines and Mrs. Aubrey Anderson, leader. Prayer was offered by Verna Oglesby.

The nonmilitary part of the test York said was to find out more about the nature and origin of the Van Allen belt of radiation.

The Van Allen belt is a mysterious radiation band beginning at about 1000 miles above the earth and extending with some interruptions up to at least 10,000 miles. It is named for its discoverer Mr. James Van Allen, State University of Iowa physicist.

Don't get up nights! This test is free if it fails. Help nature eliminate waste and excess acids which can cause the irritation that wakes you up, causes scanty flow, burning or itches. Flush the kidneys as you would the bowels. Get 50¢ worth of Juniper oil, buchu extract, etc., made into green tablets. Just say "BU-KETS" to any druggist. Locally at Gibson Drug Store.

We wish to thank each of you for your thoughtfulness, the floral offerings and comforting words shown us during our recent bereavement.

so that he could kill Post. Payne said he had planned the kidnapping for about two weeks but didn't select the Baldwins as his victims until he went to their home—three doors away from his house—and gained admittance on the pretext of wanting to use the telephone.

"I regret only that I was caught before I got Post," Payne said. "I was going to get his head and sort of preserve it. He's an enemy of my existence, and I hate him." He described his feeling toward Post as "hatred at first sight."

Payne gave that motive for the kidnapping in a weird note addressed to Gov. Cecil H. Underwood of West Virginia. The note threatened torture and death to the children if Payne's demand for Post's release was not met.

Payne left the note in the Baldwin home when he drove off in the family car with Mrs. Baldwin and Susan, 5, Danny, 7, and Kenneth, 10. The husband and father, John H. Baldwin, 30, was left behind, tied and gagged.

Despite the threats in his macabre note, Payne did not harm his captives. "I couldn't have killed them after I got to know them," he said later.

"It was the horrible experience I ever had," Mrs. Baldwin said. "I guess it could have been worse though. After all, he was nice to all of us and never tried to hurt us."

Mental Test for Slayer of Two

MARSHALL, Tex. (AP)—A psychiatric examination was scheduled today for a husky 15-year-old who shot his grandmother and maid to death Wednesday.

Charges of murder with malice were filed against the boy, James Stevens Patterson. He was ordered held by juvenile authorities.

The junior high student was quoted as saying he didn't know why he killed his grandmother, Mrs. F. S. Riggs, 77, and Lola Mae Williams, 35, a Negro maid.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Patterson, a home designer and daughter of Mrs. Riggs, was at work at the time.

Asst. Dist. Atty. R. P. Watson said the boy left for school after a minor argument, then returned. He quoted the boy as saying he stayed in the den for a time, then got his rifle and shot the women.

Another New York News Strike Looms

NEW YORK (AP)—Efforts to head off a threatened strike of printers against 10 daily newspapers here were at an impasse today.

Mediation sessions were recessed Wednesday, and no date was set for resumption of negotiations between the Publishers Assn. of New York City and New York Typographical Union 6.

Both sides, however, agreed to hold the issues in dispute and to resist themselves subject to call for the next meeting, said Commissioner Bernard J. Forman of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

A union membership meeting last Sunday voted unanimously to ask its parent organization, the International Typographical Union, for authorization to take a strike ballot.

The chief issue is reselling advertisements that come into newspaper offices in plate form. The publishers describe this as "bogus," or a form of featherbedding. The union calls it "reproduction of advertising."

Under past agreements, local display ads have been reset, but national ads have been exempt.

A recent "arbitration" award classified certain ads by grocery chains as national, rather than local. The union is seeking to reverse the award through collective bargaining.

Other issues involve wages, hours, union discipline over foremen, and use of teletypesetter and other automatic printing devices.

The present wages are $128 a week for day work, 133 for night work and 138 for late night, or "lobster" shift. The basic work day is 7 1/2 hours on the first two shifts and 7 on the third.

The old contract expired Dec. 7.

Miss Lucy Flowers, Meaders.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gannon Meaders, Jr. of Jackson, Mississippi, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Lucy Flowers, to Garfield Ray Hatch, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Leo Hatch, of Hope, Arkansas. The wedding will be celebrated in the chapel of the First Baptist Church of Jackson at 4:30 on Friday, March 20.

The bride-elect graduated from Forest Hill High School, where she was Drum-Major of the Band, a member of the Forest Hill sextette, Business Manager of the Annual, and was elected the most intelligent girl. She was a member of the Mississippi Lion's All State Band for two years and was Drum-Major her senior year.

Miss Meaders is now a senior at the University of Mississippi in the field of Elementary Education.

She is a member of Delta Gamma social sorority which she has served as treasurer.

The bridegroom-elect is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jackson, of Hope, Ark., and the late Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Jester, of Falmos, Ark.

Mr. Hatch graduated from Hope High School, where he was Captain of the Basketball team and was chosen a member of the All-State Basketball team.

He received his Bachelor's Degree from the University of Mississippi and is, at the University, working toward a Master's Degree in School Administration. He is a member of Alpha Tau Omega social fraternity.

Thorn Pierced Eye May Retain Vision

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP)—Physicians at a Texarkana hospital said today they believed a nine year old girl whose left eye was pierced by a thorn Sunday would suffer no loss of vision.

Jane McMurrough, daughter of a welder, was pierced in the eye while working in the yard of her father's business. She was taken to the hospital where she is now recovering.

Nose Bleed Victim Dies at Ft. Smith

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Cliff Clerk Horace Moore of Saltsburg, Okla., who underwent treatment for eight days in an effort to stop his nose from bleeding, died at a hospital yesterday.

One of the six physicians who attended the 55-year-old Moore said no explanation for the bleeding could be found.

After a customary treatment failed, an operation was performed yesterday.

The physicians said the bleeding continued faster than now blood could be supplied through transfusion, even though arteries to the area had been tied off.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen McMurrough of Stamps, was climbing a mountain near Hot Springs when the accident occurred.

The child was walking behind her mother when she ran into a thorny bush and one of the thorns went into her eye. Surgery was performed at the hospital here a few hours after the accident.

Woman Will Fight the Death Penalty

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—Elizabeth Duncanson, smiling and blushing on the witness stand, is fighting death in the gas chamber.

The convicted murderer has been testimony in her own behalf before a jury which is to decide her penalty—death or life imprisonment.

The jury is the same one which on Monday convicted Mrs. Duncanson of murdering the murder of her attractive daughter-in-law, Olga Duncanson, 30.

Mrs. Duncanson, 54, was found guilty of hiring Luis Moyn and Augustine Baldonado to strangle Olga. The prosecution contended she was so jealous of her 30-year-old son, Frank, that she couldn't bear to lose him to another woman.

The defendant Wednesday answered questions about her 11 marriages breezily, sometimes alluringly.

"Any penalty set by the jury won't become effective until disposition of Mrs. Duncanson's ordinary plea of innocent by reason of insanity."

Refused Money, Son Kills His Mother

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Lee Daniels Jr., an ex-convict, strode into his mother's luncheonette late Wednesday night and shot her to death, police said, when she refused to give him money. He also shot his sister.

Daniels, 24, was caught three blocks from the C&N Sugar Bowl where police say he fired two bullets into his mother, Clara Daniels, 58.

Daniels, who stands 6 feet 2 and weighs 235 pounds, was charged with murder.

The sister, Lorraine Taylor, 22, was also shot by her brother, police say. The slug lodged in her back. She was taken to a hospital where her condition was reported as fair.

Police records show that Daniels has a record which includes cases of rape, narcotics, grand larceny, burglary and break and entry.

The Daniels family is Negro.

Herbert Hoover Gets More U. S. Money

WASHINGTON (AP)—Herbert Hoover has drawn more government funds for office allowances as a former president than has Harry S. Truman, but has donated his personal pension to charity.

The information was included in testimony Feb. 24 to a House Appropriations subcommittee, which made it public today.

The law providing allowances and pensions for former presidents and for widows of presidents became effective last Aug. 25.

General Services Administrator Franklin G. Moore and other GSA witnesses told the subcommittee: Through Jan. 31, each of the former presidents had drawn the proportionate share of his $25,000 annual personal allowance.

Hoover had drawn $17,010 for office staff, $6,550 for office space and $3,812 for office equipment. Truman has drawn $16,825 for office staff and $452 for office equipment.

GSA reported no payments for office space for Truman, who maintains an office in the Truman Library at Independence, Mo.

Lester Case Is Delayed in Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A court challenge of Traffic Judge Robert W. Lester's election to the Little Rock School Board was continued yesterday until March 31.

Circuit Judge J. Mitchell Cockrill so that votes cast in the suit could be checked.

Mrs. Charles W. Stephens, who lost to Lester by 111 votes in a school board election last December, contends she should be declared the winner on grounds that 524 votes were cast illegally for Lester.

Consumer Target of Tax Hikes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The consumer is the chief target this year in campaigns to increase state taxes.

This is shown in a survey which reports that state governments are shooting for more than 1 1/2 billion dollars more in new or increased taxes on their citizens.

The survey findings were announced at the conclusion of a three-day meeting of the National Taxpayers Conference.

The study, covering 25 states, shows sales or income taxes to be the favorite source.

DOROTHY DIX

Price of Jealousy: One Happy Marriage

Dear Dorothy Dix:
I hope, Dix, one of your recent correspondents, will not let the fact that her man is popular with the women spoil her life. I had the same experience. My husband was such a fun everybody liked him, especially the ladies. It was so jealous I nagged incessantly. He would tell me over and over, "I'm yours, you're all I want." But I had to fuss and finally we separated. I've never been well or happy since. I advise any woman to keep her man and love him even if other women do like him. — One Who Paid.

Dear "O. W. P.": And I'll say "Amen!" to that.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
My 16-year-old daughter is engaged, over my objections. Her father thought it was okay although I wanted her to wait until graduation. She and her fiancé are together every night and I think that's altogether too much. Again, her dad upholds her. He says I'm heading for trouble by sticking my neck out. — Mrs. D. L.

Dear Mrs. D. L.: Correction. Dad is the one who is heading for trouble. And I bet when it comes you get the blame. This girl is too young for an engagement and she is seeing her beau entirely too often. Dad is pretty in her hands. He can't hand out discipline and won't even give you a chance to exercise some. If things work out all right, it will be in spite of his leniency.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
Is it proper for me to ask my boy friend not to swear in my presence? — Darlene.

Dear Darlene: By all means, yes. Young people (and older ones too, regretably) often use strong language in the belief that they're showing sophistication and are impressing others. The truth is they are exhibiting bad taste, showing inconsideration for people who find swearing objectionable and are impressing no one with anything but their bad manners. Usually it takes just a word or two to put these show-offs in the right place.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
When school opened last fall a new boy came into our class and I fell for him. When I confided my secret to my pal, she said she had her eye on him, too. She is much better looking than I am so open competition was out of the question. I decided on underhand methods to get him. I wrote him a letter and told him she was just using him because he had a car. Now I realize I don't like him at all and am heartily ashamed of the lie I told. I can't bring myself to tell him — Jewel.

Dear Jewel: And quite a gem you are! You were quite capable of writing a nasty letter, now try your hand at writing a decent one. You've earned the complete contempt of at least two people. If that's all the punishment you get, you're getting off easy.

Send your problem to Dorothy Dix. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her in care of Hope Star.

Bradley Made Favorite in NIT Playoff

By TED MEIER

NEW YORK (AP)—Bradley was made the early favorite today to beat St. John's of New York in their Saturday afternoon championship game of the National Invitational Basketball Tournament.

The top-seeded Braves, fourth ranked nationally and the New York Redmen reached the final by whipping NYU and Providence, respectively, in Thursday night's semifinals before a sellout 18,496 at Madison Square Garden.

Bradley blew a 10-point lead in the second half, but pulled out a 59-57 squeaker over NYU. St. John's routed Providence, the Cinderella team of the tourney, 76-53.

Bradley holds a regular season 71-66 victory over St. John's and it is primarily on this basis that the Braves are favored to repeat their 1957 victory in the NIT final.

As Chuck Osborn, Bradley coach, put it "We know what St. John's is all about."

Joe Lapchick, St. John's coach, declared "Bradley looks like a giant." Bobby Joe Mason and Joe Billy McDade helped the Braves win the 1957 net title and this is another factor in making Bradley the choice.

NYU fought from behind all the way after Bradley got off to a quick 9-0 lead. Mike Owens was high for Bradley with 16 points, but it was McDade's good defensive job on NYU's Tom Sanders that drew praise from Osborn.

"That hook shot of his that broke the tie was a thing of beauty," Altogether McDade finished with 10 points, nine rebounds and two assists. Russ Cunningham wound up with 18 points, 15 in the last half.

Providence made a gallant stand in the first half, rallying to take the lead twice at 8-15 and 18-17, and to tie the game at 20-20 and 22-22, but then the witching hour struck. A free throw and basket by Dick Engert broke the tie. Providence never threatened again.

Big Lou Soethel, with 22 points, sparked St. John's. Lenzie Hilkins starred for Providence with 17 points.

The Bradley-St. John's game will be nationally televised (NBC). NYU and Providence will play for third place.

Blevins Honors Cage Players Tonight at 6:30

Blevins basketball teams will be honored with a chicken supper at the cafeteria Friday night at 6:30.

The Blevins boys, coached by Bobby Daniels, have compiled a very impressive record. The Junior boys had a 19-3 win-loss record this season, taking the county tourney, the district and defeated in their fourth game in the state tournament. However, they won the State Sportsmanship trophy.

Monte Harris and Harold Smith were selected All-State with Harris being named the outstanding player in the district.

Blevins Junior girls captured the county trophy by downing Spring Hill. They had a record of 4-4. The Senior girls had a 11-14 won-loss record and the Senior boys captured 19 while losing 10.

All the fans will be present tonight to honor the players.

Find Layoffs Helpful in Bowling

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Practice may make perfect for some people, but a couple of bowlers who competed in the American Bowling Congress Tournament Thursday found the reverse to hold more truth.

Two middle-aged men, both of whom had long layoffs, tied for the high single game of the tournament with 289.

Alan Post, a 47-year-old gas station operator from Las Vegas, Nev., had not bowled for 12 years before he started again six months ago. After games of 148 and 204 in his singles, he hit 11 strikes in a row. The 11th ball didn't come up to the pocket, and the No. 2 pin failed to fall.

Elmore Broadhage's 289 came in the middle game of his team event. The 44-year-old St. Louis dentist is not bowling in a league this season. A three-game session two weeks ago was his only warm-up for the tournament. Broadhage opened with a 172 before he began his strike binge. After 10 strikes, his "eleventh ball" appeared to enter the pocket perfectly, but the No. 10 pin didn't tumble.

Broadhage finished with a 173 for a 684 series, helping to bolster the Valley Shoe Co. of St. Louis to a 2898 total.

There were no changes in the top 10 standings of any division of the ABC Thursday.

The mythical high school squad was chosen by coaches of schools in the region.

Those named were Charles Jackson of Morrilton, Ricky Davis of Conway, Bill Stone of Malvern, Larry Fisher of Benton, William Van Wagner of Little Rock Catholic High, Donnie Ketcherside of Russellville, Larry Hoyt of Little Rock Catholic High, David Traylor of Morrilton and Joe Broyles of Little Rock Catholic High.

High School Coach Clinic at University

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The University of Arkansas High School Coaches Clinic rolled into its second session today with emphasis on lectures for the 100 coaches attending.

Yesterday's program included sessions on the Arkansas "Belly-wh" offense by head Coach Frank Broyles.

Today's session called for Bill Ferrell to lecture on training, Broyles to talk on quarterback coaching, and Jim MacKenzie to speak on team defense and defensive line play.

Other items included a lecture on defensive end and linebacker play by Wilson Matthews and MacKenzie, Matthews and Doug Dickey talking on team practice.

The clinic will last through tomorrow. Coaches from Arkansas and Oklahoma schools are attending.

Broyles hopes to make the clinic an annual affair.

Briton Pays No Attention to the Odds

LONDON (AP)—If Brian London is scared—or even awed—at the thought of meeting world heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, he doesn't show it.

"I am ready to meet Patterson tomorrow," he proclaimed today. "I am fit and ready."

The former British heavyweight champion meets Patterson in a world title fight in Las Vegas, Nev., April 21. This one has been billed as a tuneup for Patterson for Ingemar Johansson of Sweden in New York probably June 23.

London said he planned to leave for the United States next week to get "acclimated."

"I never have seen Patterson except on films," he admitted. "But I am looking forward to the fight. I'll go in fighting and throwing punches. I've always given the crowd its money's worth and I'll do it against Patterson."

The local folks aren't too enthused over London's chances and

Weather Eases for Dodgers and Redlegs

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cincinnati Reds and Los Angeles Dodgers finally will get together tonight for their last scheduled exhibition game after spending Friday playing hide-and-go-seek, thanks to the weather.

The two teams will meet in Havana's Gran Stadium. They will play again in Gran Stadium, Saturday instead of Tampa, as originally scheduled.

The fifth straight day of rain on Florida's Gulf Coast caused the sudden shift. The Reds originally were slated to meet St. Louis at St. Petersburg Thursday and the Dodgers to entertain Baltimore at Sarasota. Rain washed out these games.

The Phillies-Detroit, Yankees-Milwaukee, Pittsburgh-Kansas City and Washington-Chicago White Sox also were rained out of Florida games Thursday.

In Arizona, Tom Brewer and Murray Wall combined for a 2-1 Boston Red Sox victory over the Chicago Cubs. The pair allowed the Cubs six hits, one Bobby Thomson's home run.

Dave Hillman just missed being the first pitcher to go nine innings this spring. He allowed Boston only four hits and two walks in eight innings.

The San Francisco Giants belted five home runs to outslug the Cleveland Indians, 9-8. Giants' shortstop Andre Rodgers hit two as part of a perfect day at the plate.

Four of the Giant homers were off Herb Score, making his third start of the exhibition season. Minnie Minoso and Woody Held homered for the Indians.

Mississippi Athlete Signs With U of A

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Head Coach Frank Broyles of the University of Arkansas today said that high school football star Chester Miller of Greenville, Miss., had signed a letter of intent to attend Arkansas.

Miller was quarterback of the Greenville team that won the Mississippi Big Eight high school championship last year.

Broyles said the 6 foot 1, 165-pound back was signed to a letter of intent by Assistant Coach Doug Dickey last Sunday when letter blanks became available under Southwest Conference rules.

Texan Charged With Robbery at Spa

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—A Texan faces action of the Garland County Grand Jury in connection with the robbery of $1,500 from a Louisiana man at a hotel here Tuesday.

George Fuqua, 35, of Mesquite, Tex., was ordered held on $3,000 bond yesterday for a preliminary hearing in municipal court.

Fuqua pleaded innocent to charges of robbing E. W. Mizell, 66, of Forest Hill, La. Mizell told police he was handcuffed to a bed in his hotel room by a holdup man who took $1,500 from him.

Mizell testified he could not positively identify Fuqua as the robber.

One of the top bookmakers in England wasted no time in making Patterson a 10-1 favorite.

Soon the name was compressed the land itself.

KILLER AMONG DUS

By Robert Martin

Quincy spoke nervously. "You started me," he said.
"Sorry," I said. "Kind of hard to see. Isn't it? Why don't you turn on a light?"

"I didn't want to advertise what I was doing." He nodded at the tester. "I've been thinking about what happened this morning and I want to check this tester, when there was nobody around to interfere."

"Sorry to interfere," I said.
"Oh, that's all right. I can't understand what made it speed up as I said. The RPM and surface speed indicators seem to be okay, and so do the speed controls."

"Could the operator increase the speed, if he wanted to?"
"No — not unless he changed the belt on the drive shaft. And there's no reason for him to do that."

I turned the light on the overhead shaft which supplied power to the tester.
"What's behind that partition?"
I asked, shining the light on the drive shaft where it entered the hole in the far wall.

"Just a kind of storeroom."
I walked across the huge room to the wall, opened a door and flashed the light inside. Quincy followed and stood behind me. It was long and narrow and filled with all sorts of equipment — piles of belting, steel pipes, various machinery parts. The drive shaft ran overhead and through the opposite wall, presumably to the source of power. Midway from the hole in the partition a wooden lever hung downward from the shaft. Directly beneath was a wooden packing case. I stepped up on the case, found that the lever could then be easily reached. Also, after shining the light through the hole in the partition, I could clearly see the speed testing machines. Once more I swung the light on the lever. It was just a wooden lever, stained with grease and dirt.
Close to the tip were two small brown stains on the smooth wood.

"What would happen if this lever were pulled while a wheel is being tested?"
His eyes glinted in dark sockets. "I don't understand."

"I said 'It could throw the tester out of control, wouldn't it?'
Then the wheel inside would spin at terrific speed, causing it to break — regardless of where the speed dial was set. Isn't that right?"

"I don't follow you. Just a minute — I'll turn on some light."
Quincy was gone.

I stepped down from the packing case, still holding the lighted flash. I swung the beam upward to the shaft, wishing I knew more about mechanics and was standing that way when I heard a soft metallic coughing sound from somewhere close, followed by an door, thinking with yearning of side me. The still air buzzed beside my right ear in the backwash of a passing missile. I turned off the flash, feeling fear, and crouched in the darkness. I thought I heard a furtive scurrying, something, but it could have been the pulsing of blood in my coronary artery. I huddled in the dark, smelling oil and metal and dust.

There was a momentary flicker as the fluorescent lights came on in the inspection department, and then there was full light shining through the open door. I felt naked and was still afraid, but I stood up bravely and faced the door, thinking with yearning of the gun in my bag at the Maps Inn.

Lawrence Quincy came through the door. "Sorry to be so long," he gazed up at the lever. "I see what you mean. Yes, that lever controls the speed of the shaft, but—"

"Somebody just took a shot at me," I said, watching him.
He gazed at me blankly.
